

HORSES RAN AWAY

And Fell At Ninth and Main Without Injury.

The two large horses that draw the delivery wagon of the Hopkinsville Mills became frightened on Ninth street, east of the L. & N. railroad yesterday and ran off. They ran down Ninth street and at the corner of Main one of them fell. One hind wheel was left standing on the side walk, as the horses had broken loose from the wagon when the first horse fell. The other animal kept on going until he got to the opposite corner when he also fell. Both animals were "assisted to their feet" and no damage was done except the breaking of the harness.

BROKE IN ON THE APPEAL

Representative's Carefully Prepared Peroration Apparently Lost on the President.

Dan R. Anthony, the monolithic member of the house from Kansas, more than six and a half feet tall, and three feet wide at the shoulders, gamboled into the White House the other morning to see the president. Ushered into the president's office at the same time was Representative Samuel W. Smith of Michigan, who weighs probably ninety-three pounds when clad in his heavy ulster. It was an odd-looking gathering—the huge president, the colossal Anthony and the diminutive Smith. Anthony plunged at once into the matter he had come for—an appointment he wished to put through. He talked with much earnestness for four or five minutes while the president stared up at him like a man looking for a pigeon on top of the Metropolitan tower. As he came to his peroration, Anthony worded his sentences with extra care, and tried to make every phrase count. He was within sight of his final period when the president, who had been staring up at him preoccupiedly, interrupted him by remarking, irrelevantly and almost in alarm:

"Why, Dan, your hair's actually getting thin, isn't it?"

RELIEVING STRAIN ON EYES

Use of Ice or Cold Water Compress Is Recommended When Unusual Work Has to Be Done.

When you are compelled to subject your eyes to severe and continued strain it is well to have within easy access some ice, or some very cold water. If the eyes ache and throb make a little compress of cracked ice and lay it over the eyes. Remove it when the eyes become too cold. There will be a reaction, the blood rushing back to the organs. When this occurs, the compress may be laid on again. If ice is not obtainable, the cold-water treatment, during which time the mind is utterly relaxed, so as to rest the nerves, will return you to your work greatly refreshed. Sometimes the difficulty is centered more in the nerves than in the organs of sight; hence the advisability of the five minutes' rest and relaxation, with the eyes closed.

ZERO.

The word "zero" is from the Spanish, and means empty, hence nothing. It was first used on a thermometer in 1795 by a Prussian merchant named Fahrenheit. From a boy Fahrenheit was a close observer of nature, and when only nineteen years old, by experimenting with snow and salt, he discovered what he believed to be the lowest degree of temperature known in the world. He called the degree "zero," and constructed a thermometer with a scale graduating up from zero to boiling point, which he numbered 212, and the freezing point 32, because, as he thought, mercury contracted the thirty-second of its volume on being cooled down from the temperature of freezing to zero.

RECOGNIZED THE DESCRIPTION.

Several tourists, strangers to each other, were comparing notes.

"I am from Bonnie Scotland," said one.

"I am from the Emerald Isle," said another.

"My home is in the prettiest valley in Wales."

"I hail from Australia."

"And my home is in the greatest, the grandest, the richest and the most beautiful land in all the world."

Then the others exclaimed in chorus:

"Well, the conceit of these Americans!"—Youngstown Telegram.

QUALIFIED.

"Have the Swashbys a large income?"

"Oh, dear, no! They live so much beyond their income that nobody has the slightest idea of what they are really worth."

"Hum! Very estimable people, no doubt. We must be sure to have them at our next dinner party."

THEY WILL BURST.

Mrs. Dearborn—What tires are you using on your car?

Mrs. Wabash, parvenu—Oh, gracious! I don't know. Jenkins, my chaffer, attends to all that."

"But don't you know the kind of tires you use?"

"Well, I know it's one of the bustin' kind, that's all!"

THE TALK OF THE TOWN!

It's the Big Shoe Sale

Now going on at the O. G. SPROUSE CO.'s STORE, on Ninth street. This sale is the biggest talk of its kind ever pulled off in town, and hundreds of Hopkinsville people have already availed themselves of the rare opportunity of buying nice new spring shoes and oxfords at about one-half the "wholesale" value; and we still have hundreds of these nice new shapes and styles left, so if you haven't already visited this sale, it will pay you to do so at once.

300,000 pair of shoes and oxfords, worth from $3.00 to $5.00,
For $1.00, $1.50 & $2.00

We have about two hundred and fifty pairs of Florsheim shoes, left from last season, worth from $5.00 to $6.00, choice while they last,
For $2.95

This sale will continue this, and all next week. Any suit or overcoat in our house, worth up to $25.00, choice during this sale
For $9.85

Any ladies' coat suit, worth up to $30.00, during this sale at $12.98

We expect to make Friday and Saturday the Banner Days of this sale. Every article in the house is cut to the bottom. We have got to make room for our new spring goods, in order to do that we will sell this stock at what it will bring. We are sorry we have offended some of our competitors, because we are selling goods so cheap; but so long as our customers are satisfied, and we settle our bills, we think it is none of their business—and to set at rest the talk that some of them raised that we will leave here soon, I want to say to the public that we are here to stay, and if they don't watch, we will be here when some of them are gone. We are here to make an honest living, and to sell our merchandise at a reasonable profit, and not to use extortion on anyone. You run no risk in buying from us. Any thing you buy, if not satisfactory you have but to tell us, and we are ready to right same. Continue to come and see us; we are here to stay. We have had the pleasure of enjoying a nice business since we have been here, for which we are profoundly thankful and appreciative, and we hope to continue the same liberal patronage in future. We do not belong to any combine, or Retail Merchants' Association, to hold up the prices on the Great Common People, and we never will! Read the prices below!

THE O. G. SPROUSE COMPANY

Incorporated.

Cook Building.

Walk a Block and Save a Dollar.

Near L. & N. Depot.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Grahame Stock Company, now in its ninth year, and known as one of the best popular price attractions on the road, will begin a week's engagement at Holland's opera house next Monday night. During the company's stay in our city a widely contrasting line of plays will be given, ranging from heavy drama and costumed romance to the most farcical of comedies. A special feature of the engagement will be the mounting of each play, the Grahame show car carrying its own special scenery, new and handsome, a complete equipment for each production. Another big inducement to attend will be a line of excellent vaudeville, from four to six specialties given with each play and entirely changed every night.

The opening bill next Monday night will be "The Stepmother," a happy blending of pathos, sensation and screaming comedy. Prices will be 10, 20 and 30 cents; ladies being entitled to the best seats free on the opening night, if each is accompanied by one paid 30 cent ticket. The number of these tickets is limited, good on Monday night only and must be reserved in advance before 6 p. m., Monday next. Seats on sale Saturday at Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

A Wail From Henderson.

Our farmers' speeches and resolutions and our editor's articles have no circulation on the other side of Green river and yet the trust is taking all the tobacco over there at 5 3-4 and 6c.—Henderson Journal, Feb. 10.

Edison's Latest.

Thomas A. Edison is indeed a wizard. In an interview, Mr. Edison said he believes the end of the present legitimate stage is at hand as a result of his newest invention, a talking motion picture machine, called the Kinetophone, which proved successful in a demonstration a few days ago.

New Dollar Notes.

Secretary of the Treasury McVeagh has given the order for the engraving of the new one-dollar Treasury notes. They will be in circulation in eighteen months.
